HOUSE OF LORDS

Boston, Mass., February 21, 1902.

Hon. Patrick A. Collins,

Mayor of the City of Boston :

Sir, — In compliance with Section 24 of Chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances, the Board of Election Commissioners respectfully submits its report for the year 1901.

The work of this department during the past year has exceeded that of any year in its history, except of course the year of new general registration, 1896.

Number of Voters.

At the city election in December, 1900, the number of male voters on the list was 106,879. The number of such voters on the list published by the Board in August, 1901, was 93,003. From that time to the close of registration for the city election there were added the names of 17,128 male voters, bringing the total of such voters on the list for the city election of 1901 to the hitherto unprecedented number of 110,131, an increase of 3,252 over the list of the preceding year. There were 12,473 female voters registered for the city election of 1900. Last year their number was 15,592, an increase of 3,119. The total increase of male and female voters over the preceding year was 6,371.

VOTING BOOTHS.

The Board has endeavored to meet all just requirements of the voters. Finding that its use of certain ward-rooms for registration and election purposes frequently interfered with their use by citizens for public meetings, it has had twenty wooden voting booths built during the past year. As a result, not only have these ward-rooms been restored to the citizens for whose use they were designed, but the Board has been almost completely relieved of the necessity of hiring private buildings for election purposes. The department has now 76 wooden booths and 103 steel booths. One hundred and seventy-seven of these booths were used in the elections, two being held in reserve in case of accident. Thirteen city buildings and one private building were also used.

LIGHTING OF BOOTHS.

The voting compartments in the booths and buildings used for election purposes have been fitted up with candles and reflectors, and the interiors of the compartments painted white, so as completely to remove any complaint as to their darkness in the early-morning hours. They are now rendered as light as day.

VOTING LISTS AT CAUCUSES.

The department for the first time has furnished voters at caucuses of the two leading political parties with consolidated printed lists of the supplementary voters registered up to 10 o'clock P.M. of the second day preceding the caucus. Formerly the caucus officers were supplied with successive lists of supplementary voters clipped from the newspaper publishing the same from time to time. It was necessary frequently for the caucus officers to keep a line of voters waiting a considerable time while they searched through the various lists of names printed in small type for a particular individual. It is easy to see under these circumstances the temptation, in order to expedite matters, to pass supplementary voters without properly locating and checking their names. On the other hand, supplementary voters whose names were in reality upon the lists, were sometimes turned away and refused the right to vote because their names had not been found by the caucus officers. It was difficult, too, where the names were printed closely together in newspaper column to check the right one distinctly. The new lists furnished by the Board were printed in the same style as the voting lists for elections and have proved a great advantage in the conduct of the caucus.

CAUCUS NOMINATION PAPERS.

Section 108 of the Election Act (Revised Laws, Chapter 11, Section 108) provides that "no nomination paper offered for filing shall be received or be valid unless the written acceptance of every candidate thereby nominated shall be filed therewith." The object of this section was to prevent the unauthorized use of people's names as candidates for delegates to a convention or other office on a caucus ballot. If a particular name would strengthen one faction in a contest, it would be placed upon its ticket without consulting its owner. When the other faction learned what had been done, it would at once proceed to hunt up the person and attempt to obtain his withdrawal. But if it happened that for any reason he could not be reached in time, his name would stand on the ballot, perhaps heading a ticket in opposition to his own wishes and his own friends. A law to prevent this practice is necessary. The above section, however, goes too far. It makes a nomination paper containing the names of, say, twenty-three candidates for delegates to a convention, where twenty-two of these candidates have accepted in writing, wholly invalid because the twenty-third candidate has not accepted. It thus inaugurates a new injustice in place of the greater one removed. The law should be amended so that such a nomination paper would be valid as to all the candidates who have accepted, and invalid only as to those candidates whose acceptances have not been obtained.

LEGISLATION OF 1901.

Section 1 of Chapter 249 of the Acts of 1901 (Revised Laws, Chapter 11, Section 104) providing that notices of caucuses shall state the place where and time when nomination papers shall be issued and the place where and earliest time when such papers may be filed, which time must be not less than 24 week-day hours succeeding 3 o'clock of the day fixed for issuing such papers, has accomplished its purpose and given to all citizens an opportunity to prepare nomination papers and file them in competition with others at the appointed hour.

It has been a common practice to file with the Board nomination papers having papers or cards, containing the acceptances of candidates or the signatures of nominators, attached thereto in various ways. There was constant danger that these papers or cards might get detached from the nomination paper itself and become lost or cause uncertainty as to which papers they properly belonged. This difficulty has been obviated by the passage of Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1901 (Revised Laws, Chapter 11, Section 108), which requires all nominations to be made on the original blanks prepared by the Board, and declares invalid any nomination paper to which is attached any such card, paper or other device.

An act of great importance to the citizens of Boston was Chapter 402 of the Acts of 1901 (Revised Laws, Chapter 11, Sections 137–139), providing for the nomination of senators and the election of members of the state committees in the Suffolk senatorial districts by direct vote in the caucuses instead of by conventions. The change, which had the hearty concurrence of the Board, seems to have the unanimous approval of the citizens of Boston. Not only is there no desire to return to the old convention system, but the success of the reform in the Suffolk districts has given the movement for direct nomination of candidates an impetus throughout the State.

On the last day of the session of the Legislature Chapter 531 of the Acts of 1901 (Revised Laws, Chapter 11, Section 271) became a law. Under it the Mayor of Boston and the Board of Election Commissioners were constituted a board with power to "determine upon, purchase and order the use of voting and counting machines." The machines so purchased were to be used at such elections and caucuses in Boston as the Board of Election Commissioners might from time to time determine.

Voting Machines.

The new Board thus created promptly organized by the choice of Charles R. Saunders as Chairman, and Melancthon W. Burlen as Secretary. A room was set apart in the Old Court-house where machines that had received the approval of the State Board of Examiners might be placed on exhibition, and the manufacturers of all such machines were invited to forward samples. The owners of two of the three machines that had been approved by the State authorities responded, and their machines remained on exhibition for several weeks.

A proper equipment of the city with voting machines would, under any estimate, involve an expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars. Before passing judgment on a matter of this consequence the Board determined to investigate at first hand the practical workings of these machines where they had already been in use. In the summer of 1901 accordingly the members of the Voting Machine Board, except the Mayor of Boston who was unable to accompany the other members, made a trip to the principal cities of New York State, where one style of machine approved by the Massachusetts State Board was in use, and to Northampton, Massachusetts, where a different style of machine, also approved by the State Board, had been adopted. City officials, including the Mayor, City Clerk, members of the City Council, and election officers and numerous private citizens were examined in each place, and their testimony taken down in shorthand by our chief clerk. This testimony has been typewritten and preserved and will be of permanent value in deciding finally this important question.

Although appreciating fully the many merits of the voting machine the Board felt that a change of this character should not be hastily made. Under the opinion of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, given to the House of Representatives last year, such machines as have been approved by the State Board could not be used in the election of State officials without an amendment of the State Constitution or such change in the construction of the machines as would vitally impair the secrecy of the Australian ballot system. The machines are not designed or recommended by their makers for use at caucuses. It did not, therefore, seem expedient to the Board to purchase machines at great expense to be used only at the city election. After the voter had participated in his September and November caucuses and the State election, expressing his will by the paper ballot system, it would tend only to confuse him to provide him at the last function of the year, the city election, with a different system. The voting machine industry is yet in its infancy. Improvements in its construction are constantly being made; so that if the way is eventually cleared for their full adoption in Massachusetts the people are likely to obtain an even better machine than has yet appeared.

ELECTION OFFICERS.

In the month of October the 1,146 regular election officers and the 1,146 deputy election officers, who had been appointed by the Board for the ensuing year, were notified to appear before some member of the Board for instruction in their duties, and to be sworn. Each was notified of a meeting to be held in his section of the city on a particular night at which some member of the Board would be present for the above purposes. Twelve such meetings were held in different sections of the city. Especial stress was laid upon Section 234 of the Election Act (Revised Laws, Chapter 11, Section 237) providing that each block of ballots shall be counted by two election officers representing the two leading political parties, each election officer, while so counting, to be under the inspection of an election officer of a different political party. The Board instructed the election officers that the ballots, when taken from the ballot-box at the close of the polls, should be placed upon a table in full sight of the voters, and not removed therefrom until every ballot had been canvassed and the count completed. The election officer calling off the names on a ballot should have an election officer of the opposite political party looking over his shoulder to see that he calls off correctly, and the election officer tallying down the names as called off should have an election officer of the opposite political party watching him to see that he tallies down correctly. It had been the almost universal practice throughout the city, in spite of repeated instructions from the Board, for the election officers, in order to expedite the count, to divide the ballots into two or even three portions, and each portion be counted by only two election officers. There was, therefore, little check upon the carelessness or intentional wrong doing of an election officer, for the attention of the caller-off was entirely taken up with his calling, and that of the tallier with his tallying, and there was no supervision of either. The Board announced that it would hold the warden of each precinct responsible for the strict enforcement of this law, and the police officers on duty at the several precincts were directed by the Police Department to report instantly to our Board any infraction of this rule. As a result, although the returns of votes were necessarily somewhat delayed, the count was unusually accurate.

Deputy Election Officers.

The Board desires to repeat the recommendation made in its last four annual reports that deputy election officers in Boston be abolished. Of the 1,146 deputies appointed by the Board last year 285 failed even to appear before the Board and qualify. Few of them have an opportunity to serve on election day, as vacancies among the regular election officers are infrequent. Consequently their only service is to appear at the opening of the polls, for which they subsequently receive $1.50 for such appearance at each election. There would be no difficulty in filling whatever vacancies might occur among the regular officers by nomination and hand vote from the floor. About $2,000 a year would be saved to the city by their abolition. The Board drafted a bill providing for the doing away with deputy election officers in Boston, and, with the approval of Your Honor, appeared before the Committee on Election Laws at the State House in advocacy of the same at the present session of the Legislature. The bill has been favorably reported by the Committee and the Board trusts will become a law.

EXAMINATIONS FOR ELECTION OFFICERS.

In spite of full oral and printed instructions given each year to the election officers, there is still much room for improvement in their work. During the coming year we hope to institute a system of practical examination which shall result in furnishing the city with a permanent body of intelligent, skilled election officers.

OFFICIAL STAMPS.

In its endeavor to prevent absolutely any tampering with the ballots by election officers, by the addition of cross marks nullifying the will of the voter, the Board considered carefully the expediency of providing official stamps for the voters to use in marking their ballots instead of the usual pencil. Under Section 223 of the Election Act (Revised Laws, Chapter 11, Section 226), if such stamps are provided, no marks on the ballot except those made with the stamps can be counted, and if a stamp mark has been erased the ballot shall be counted as if no erasure had been made. Various styles of stamps were submitted to the Board by different manufacturers. Certain practical difficulties in their use, however, presented themselves, and the Board finally concluded to postpone further consideration of this innovation until it could ascertain the effect of a strict insistence upon the counting of the ballots by all inspectors.

RECOUNTS.

The Board received during the past year the usual number of petitions for recounts of ballots cast at caucuses and elections. A number of changes in the results, as announced by the caucus and election officers, were occasioned thereby. The recounts of the Republican and Democratic caucuses in September, the recount of the State election in November, and the recount of the city election in December were carried on at Faneuil Hall, which is admirably adapted for such work. The recounts of the Republican and Democratic caucuses in November were held at Union Hall on two successive days, in consequence of the use of Faneuil Hall having been granted eight months in advance for a fair for that entire week. By employing clerical assistance in addition to the full office force, it was possible to have the recount progressing in fifteen wards simultaneously. In this manner, and by counting forenoon, afternoon and evening of each day, recounts throughout the city were completed in two days. The candidates affected were represented in person or by attorney at each table, and the results of the recounts were promptly accepted as final by all parties, except in one representative contest, where the recount made a change in the candidate elected. On petition to the House of Representatives for another recount of this vote the Committee on Elections of the House again counted the vote, and reported the same candidate elected as determined by the recount of the Board.

DEMOCRATIC SOCIAL PARTY.

In the State election of 1900 the Socialist Labor party failed to poll three per cent. of the entire vote cast in the State for Governor, and thereupon ceased to be entitled to the privileges of a political party. The Democratic Social party, however, for the first time polled more than the required three per cent., and thus stepped into the place vacated by the Socialist Labor party. Caucus rooms, ballots and all the other paraphernalia were provided by the Board for the caucuses of this party in August and November. At the August caucuses only five wards in the city cast more than 10 votes, while in five wards no votes at all were cast. At the November caucuses only two wards cast more than 10 votes, while in no less than eleven wards not a single voter appeared. In a number of wards no nominations whatever were filed by the Democratic Social party with the Board, and the ballots provided for such wards were entirely blank, as far as names of candidates were concerned. We would suggest that where no nominations for a particular ward are filed with the Board it ought not to be obliged to fit up a caucus room, and provide ballots and boxes for such ward. The method of nominating candidates for a caucus is so simple that unless a handful of citizens in a ward can be found to take that trouble the city ought not to be asked to recognize that particular caucus further.

NEW PRECINCTS.

In consequence of the heavy registration for the city election, Precincts 5, 6 and 8 of Ward 20 contained at the close of registration 1,045, 1,012 and 1,021 male voters respectively. Under Section 159 of the Election Act (Revised Laws, Chapter 11, Section 162) it will devolve upon the Board of Aldermen on or before the first Monday of July in the current year to divide these precincts or make a new division into precincts of the entire ward, so that no precinct shall contain more than 1,000 registered male voters.

ILLEGAL REGISTRATION.

Fifty-four names were stricken from the voting list by the Board during the year because of non-residence, deaths (other than those reported by the Registrar of Deaths), or other ineligibility.

CARD INDEX.

A work of considerable magnitude during the year was the preparation by the Board of a general card index of all the voters of the city. This has proved of great value. It is now possible to turn instantly to the record of the registration of every voter upon the list. The office has also a separate card index of naturalized voters up to the year 1900, which is designed to be permanent after the general card index is made of no effect by the new general registration of 1906. We have asked for an appropriation to enable us to keep up the general card index, to write up the card index of naturalized voters for the years 1900 and 1901, and to prepare a book record of the latter. When naturalized citizens, who may have lost their papers, apply for registration in 1906 it will then be possible promptly to furnish them with all the data of their naturalization.

BOSTON BALLOT LAW COMMISSION.

The Board, sitting with Associate Justice William J. Forsaith of the Municipal Court of the City of Boston, as the Boston Ballot Law Commission, heard two disputed nomination cases in connection with the city election. The nomination of the Democratic candidates for aldermen in the Fourth Aldermanic District was contested on the ground that the ballots for aldermen cast at the Democratic caucuses in the several wards of the district were not counted by the caucus officers. There were only two Democratic candidates for nomination for aldermen whose names appeared upon the official ballots in the district, and the district was entitled to two aldermen. After hearing the evidence and the argument of counsel for the contestant the Commission decided by the unanimous vote of the Election Commissioners that the objection was not sustained, and that the names of these two candidates should appear upon the election ballot. The second case was a protest against the nomination paper of a Republican Independent candidate for the Common Council in Ward 18, on the ground that a sufficient number of names had been added to his paper without the authority of the owners to bring the number of authorized legal signatures below the number necessary for a nomination paper for that office. The Commission gave two hearings in the matter, and by the unanimous vote of the Election Commissioners found the charge sustained, and the nomination paper invalid in consequence.

Jurors.

An important part of the work of the Board is the preparation of the list of voters of Boston qualified to serve as jurors in the courts of Suffolk County. In this task the Board has taken especial pains. Lists of persons suggested for jury service were handed in to the Board from various sources. So numerous were these names that, if they had all been accepted by the Board, the preparation of the additions to the list for the year would have been practically accomplished by outside persons free from all responsibility. The Board, therefore, voted to disregard such applications, and proceeded to make up the list from all the information it could obtain from the assessors' books, its own voting lists, and other reliable sources. Its aim has been to give due representation in that honorable service to all classes of our citizens, taken from each and every section of the city.

Boston's Proportion of Venires.

Section 10 of Chapter 176 of the Revised Laws provides that the clerks of the Supreme Judicial Court and the Superior Court for Suffolk County shall apportion the number of jurors among the several cities and towns of the county, as nearly as may be, in proportion to population. On investigation it was found that in a venire of 46 for the Supreme Judicial Court, Boston had only 40 jurors, in a venire of 36 for the Superior Court, Civil Session, only 30, and in a venire of 40 for the Superior Court, Criminal Session, only 34. On a basis of population, according to the census of 1900, Boston should have in the first case 42 jurors, in the second 33 and in the third 36. Upon conference with the clerks of the several courts it was arranged that henceforth Boston should have the full representation on Suffolk juries to which it is entitled.

QUARTERS.

With the great increase in the work of the department, the quarters in which it is carried on have become so inadequate that relief cannot longer be postponed. So cramped have we been for room that registration at our office is carried on at certain seasons of the year in three separate rooms, one borrowed from another department of the city. The Commissioners are grouped in one small room, with no opportunity for separate, concentrated work. Each is consequently interrupted in the work allotted to him by persons having business with the others. The same room has also to be used for hearings before the Board. The accommodations for our force of clerks are also insufficient. A plan for temporary relief has been suggested to Your Honor which, if carried out, will relieve the situation for the present.

MEMBERSHIP OF BOARD.

The term of Hon. George P. Sanger, for four years a member of the Board, expired April 30, 1901. Charles R. Saunders, Esq., appointed as his successor for the term of four years ending April 30, 1905, assumed the duties of his office June 20, 1901.

ESTIMATE FOR ENSUING YEAR.

With the steady increase in the number of voters on the list the expenses of the department tend naturally to increase. In a letter to your predecessor, under date of December 29, 1901, we submitted our estimate of the expenses for the ensuing year, giving an itemized statement of the same, and our conclusion that the sum of $140,600 would be necessary properly to carry out the duties imposed by law upon the Board. If radical changes in the caucus laws, such as some of those proposed to the present Legislature, should be enacted into law, we should be obliged to ask for still further funds later in the year.

ELECTION STATISTICS.

The following pages show in tabulated form the number of assessed polls, registered male and female voters, and votes cast in Boston at the state and city elections in 1901.
